On November 19th, preparations for locating a depot of the supplies of the army at Fort Bridger were being made rapidly. Four Companies of the 5th Infantry, and two of the 19th have been detached on Religue duty for this purpose, under the command of Capt Robinson, of the 6th, and have established a camp within a few hundred feet of the Fort, where the supply trains are received as they come up.

THE NEWS OF THE MORSING.- Neither Congress or our State Legislature were in session Saturday, having adjourned over to to-day.

From the Utah Army we have later advicer. The army has gone into winter quarters, to await re Intercements. The troops are described as contented, although suffering from the loss of their cattle, and want of general supplies.

Advices from Mr. Dooux, our Minister at Madrid, state that it is the general opinion there that Spain is preparing to make hostile demonstrations towards Mexico.

The week eading Saturday was quiet in bustnoss matters. We publish this morning our structed. weekly review of the markets. Receipts of whost and flour have been small. The telegraph reports no activity in the New York grain market on Saturday.

A Poot's Estimation of Americans.

In a letter from New York to the London Il-Instrated News, Charles Mackay records the folowing observations upon the pseuliar character-stics of the people of the U. S. : The Americans are people with an immense The Americans are people with an immense continuent to occupy and replenish, and with a national future before them more brilliant than that of any nation under the sun. They are a people of ideas as large as their political liberty, and as expansive as their Union. In addition to this they are a community of traders, rather than of workers. If the Englishman works for the world, the American trades for the world, the American trades for the world.

Labor may be called the characteristic of the world.

Labor may be called the contact sits of the one, and spoculative enterprise of the other.

The Englishman works best; the Americans trades best. Of late years the unparalleled growth of the city of New York—a city far richer than Paris, and second only to London in the or than Paris, and second only to London in the oxtent of its commercial operations— has encouraged the idea that it was impossible to set limits to its enterprise and prosperity. The late indux of California gold has added strength to the conviction. New York has rapidly become a city of palaces—palaces of white/marble, to which no city in the European or Asiatle hemisphere can often a parallel. Marble hotels accommodating a thousand guests; marble and granite was thought a beautiful and a city of palaces. ting a thousand guests; marble and granite warchouses, shops and stores; marble dwelling-houses, which kings of the Old World might envy; have arisen on either side; and Broadway has become, beyound comparison, the richest, gayest, and most splended street in the world—dwarfing the Regent street of London.

Money Market. Banking and Exchange Oppice of Bridge Brothers, 1 166 East Water St., Mil., Jan. 28, 258.

The past week has not been characterized by any particular event, unless we may call the peculiar inactivity it has presented an important item. Trade con-tinues very dull, but money sceme to be easier. The great trouble now is, that good first class paper cannot; be obtained, and as a matter of course, lenders will not let money on poor names, or inadequate security, we Whole on the state of the Union. rarely see even as rallable paper as last year, when money was plenty, and for the reason that financial mat-ters have been so pressing, that the chaff is sifted from the grain, and really good men have brought their business to such a focus that they do not care to borrow, while the opposite class cannot raise suitable collaterals There is little or no trouble in obtaining loans on first as security. Our banks are complaining generally of the searcity of currency. The report of the Comptroller shows, in a great degree, what has become of it, as far as the banks are concerned. They have generally made: a very good report. and considering the narrow nath they have been compelled to travel, it is quite or editable.
We give below a comparative statement in brief-respectively of our present city banks. Jan 4: Reduction since July 6, 1857 Solvent Bunk Notes on hand........... Resources

The above does n of include the Juneau Benk, exce n the statement of capital, as that institution was not in operation last July. The reduction of circulation i undoubtedly caused by the locseness of our bankin capacity, to locate banks in inaccessible places, and floor the city with a currency which, though equally secure, can never be converted into gold, thereby causing the return of our city notes, as the only way to obtain that desirable commodity. Exchange has still a downward tendency, and mus fall as low as 1% $ cent. before 60 days. Atthorreson ares, the idea of Eastern banks sending their circulation here for the purchase of Wheat, is absurd. They cannot afford to do so at rates above the one we mention and for that reason we prodict a fall. Land Warrants are gradually rising to price, with but little call. The scarolty of money generally may pro-yent the large domand which the Spring usually presents as far as apeculation is concerned, but many will be apted for gotpal gettlers. We quote the price, however or, the name as last week.

FRIPMENTS FROM TORONTO-WESAT IN CARADA.-The Toronto Globe of the 20th in t., says that the total ex ports of Wheat and Flour from Toronto, during the pas wo years, compare as follows:

This is a decrease of 100 B et. on the value, and of 70 on the quantity exported. This indicates a large amount of grain in our vicinity, yet to come forward. Yet thermust still be a greater quantity in other parts of the country, for the shipments from Toronto see much is excess in proportion to other ports,—the cause of which is, that our dealers here had greater facilities during the fall for the purchase of produce. Thirty-Fifth Congress--First Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. MASHINGTON, Jan. 22.
SENATE.—Not in session.
House.—(Continued from Saturday's report.)
Mr. Davis, of Maryland, introduced a bill for the improvement of the Patapses River, and to render the port of Baltimore accessible to ships of war and steam frigates.

The House then went into Committee of the

The Invalid Pension bill was taken up.

Mr. Billinghurst argued against the practicability of the Southern and in favor of the Northern Pacific Railrond route.

Mr. Warren asked him whether he would vote for the Southern route if the committee should report it as the nearest, cheapest and most prac-ticable. Mr. B. emphatically said he would not, while the talk of a Southern confederacy was so rife. He wanted to know whether the South was to remain in the Union or not.

Mr. Warren replied that there was no such thing being talked of in this country as a South-ern Uonfederacy. He was a national man, and as a southerner attached to southern institutions, would vote for any road connecting the Atlan

Mr. Billinghurat said that he did not hold Mr. Mr. remonsible for disunion sentiments. When the gentleman denied that he was in favor of a Southern confederacy he must believe it, for a confederacy was not meditated but a consolidated government, a regal empire, or something like

it. The committee here rose.

The Speaker appointed Mr. Purviance on the Special Committee to investigate Lawrence Stone, & Co.'s disbursements, in place of Mr. Kunkel, of Penn., who was excused, and Mr. Davis on the Committee to investigate the conduct and accounts of the late Door-keeper, in the place of Mr. Purviance, excused. place of Mr. Purviance, excused. MILWAUKEE:

MONDAY MORNING, JAN'Y 25.

The "Mard Money" Dodge. The English papers of this city are unanimous in their opposition to the "hard money" doctrings preached at Madison last week. Even the Nows, rejecting the abourd attempt of the Madi-Bon Argus to turn the question to political account, calls upon the Legislature to authorize the payment of State taxes in Wisconsin Bank bitte, as well as gold and silver. The News well

The refusal to take the currency of this State, for taxes, is entirely unwarranted. We observed that some of the members of the Assembly, who that some of the members of the Assembly, who that some of the members of the Assembly, who that some of the members of the Assembly, who that some of the members of the Assembly, who that some of the United in the debate on this question a few days since, referred to the sub-treasury system of the United States, which requires that all government dues shall be paid in coin. But coin is the only constitutional currency known to the Federal Government, while we have provided for a paper currency in our Constitution, which is now circulating in our State, and used in all move threating in our State, and used in all move the object of the present this time to aggravate the origin of the present this time to aggravate the origin of the present I assings refused to receive the currency in the required much hand labor, it will probably be sold at retail at about $2.

"Hard money" arguments should have been made when the question of creating banks was before the people. It is too late now to emulate Col. Benton in our State Council.

The "refusal" of Treasurer Hagrings is a compulsory one. He cannot, if he would, receive currency lestead of coin, in payment of taxes. The Law expressly requires the payment to be made in " gold and silver," and Mr. HAST-1303 has neither discretion, nor disposition, to evado this requirement. The Legislature, however, can alter the Law, and, in our judgment, they ought to do so, without hesitation. The State created the Banks and legalizes their bills. If this currency is good enough for the People, it is good enough for the State. It will be difficult enough, this year, for the people to pay their taxes in currency. To do so in coin would be impossible. As a measure of policy, therefore, as well as a matter of right, the restriction upon the Treasurer, against receiving anything but gold and silver in payment of taxes, ought

" In "both Houses"; the imotion to " adjourn over" was mado, as it was voted for, by Democrats. No doubt the reason was, that the business of the Legislature being now mainly in the hands of the Standing Committees, an adjournment for a day would rather expedite than retard the work. Of course, the talk about " doing nothing three | bol un had with portect case. days" is a partizan fiction of the Argus.

What is the reason we cannot get the Milwankou Sentinet? Has it cut us off its daily exchange? If so, all right—though we published its card, and will again, cheerfully, when our year expires. But if it protends to come to us daily, we would like to have it come.—White-water kindster.

That is just what the Sentinel would like; and why our daily issue does not reach our Whitewater contemporary regularly, is more than we can tell. Certainly, it has been and will be, re-

Gov. Wise on Assas. -- Gov. Wise's additions to the natural history department of science are invaluable. He has told us all about the differout varieties of crabs, the "hardsholls," the "sof shell," the " peolers," and all about the varieties of negroes, the "cbe skin," the "gizzard foot," &2. In his late letter to the Tammany Society he thus discourses about asses:

Almost every other people and every other party, except the American Democracy, have had their "bridges of asses," but I do pray that we may not be such asses ourselves as to make we may not be such alsos outserves as to make a bridge of slavery, or of any other subject, for us to stall at in a career and progress of national greatness. And yet, gauthemen, there are a great many Kaus-asses is our country, and they a great many Kans-asses in our country, and they are not half an etabloric asses as the can't asses. A driver can get along after a minoner with an use that can, but the oraclest good will not provail with the asses who can't. They are the stubbernest of all, and are sure to stall just in the very and at the very place of most danger. They bray a political religion, and religious politics.

ENFORCE THE GAME LAWS!-The Watertown monous next Mouday, and very probably he will have a trial at this term of the Court." Democrat thus calls attention to our Game Laws, and to the importance of observing and enforcing them : The Game Season is about drawing a close. It is now againt the the law to shoot or take woodcock, grouse and prairie chickens, and on the let of February it will be equally un-Liwful to kill deer, patridge and quail. All should observe our mild and silutary game laws, designed as they are to protect the favorite animals and birds from indiscriminate slaughter. Those who will not, ought to be made to suffer the penalties which such needful statutes inflict.

FRELING BETTER ABOUT THE MESSAGE.-The longer the News studies the Governor's Message, the better it seems to like it. We gather from its criticisms in Saturday's issue, that even in murderer went to the house of his victim, and shot bim with a rille while sitting at his own fireside, surrounded by his family. Gircumstances caused the guilty parties to be suspected, when they were arrested, and Hiltower made a clear breast of it, telling of the agreement above stated. Suffocated to Death. A shocking calamity occurred in this city A shocking calamity occurred in this city on Tuesday, involving the loss of the lives of eight children attending Public School No. 14, at the corner of Concord and Navy streets, opposite the City Park. A fire broke out in the female department about two o'clock, and soon extended over the entire building, which was totally distroyed, When the slarm was given, a punic occurred among the children, who, before they could be quietly dismissed, rushed out, one over the other, to save themisoives.

HEARTRENDING SCENES

The parents of children who attended the school ran about from place to place in the wildest state of excitement. The women particularly were frantic. Four children three of whom were dead and the other dying; were in D. Stow's drug store. Parents who had children in the school came rushing in there, and if they dentified any bodies gave vent to their feelings and clasping their lifeles forms in their arms hurried out into the street. Others, who did not recognized any of the mute thitle faces there, went out and hunted about the neighborhood until they were satisfied that their children were safe, or were killed. Her brother, who is a farmer in the western part of this State was sent for to attend the welding, and arrived a day or two before the event was to take place. In the meantime Mr. Saal incautiously left his overcoat meantime Mr. Saal incautiously left his overcoat at home and his wife fumbling over his pockets, discovered a note, which she read, and found to be a marriage agreement entered into between her busband and a lady whom also nover heard of bofore. Her suspicious were aroused, and she made inquiries and soon found the lady's residence. She heformed her of her creand—told her the man she was engaged to be married to was her husband, and, went into other details.—Miss Blattermacher informed her friends, and the action was commenced against Saal. The evidence having all been given in before Deputy Sheriff Perry and a Jury, a verdict of $5,000 damages was rendered against the defondant, who in the measuring, however, succeeded in transferring all his property to his wife, and there the matter rests.—Evockyn Engle.
